ANDHERI

change your thoughts

change the world

September comes from the Latin root septem-, meaning “seven,” because in the original Roman republican calendar. September was the seventh month of the year rather than the ninth. The constellations seen in the sky are Virgo and Libra. It marks the end of the monsoon season, and nature gets a signal to gather up the rest of the harvest and prepare for the winters. The disappearance of the monsoon clouds sets the tone for transitions.

Change is a big part of life. In fact, change IS life. Without change, we would be nothing. It's always ideal to embrace change because the sooner we do, the faster we adapt. Speaking of adapting, adaptation is a popular example of change. Adaptation is the process in which a living organism changes itself over many generations to be able to survive efficiently in their environment. Similarly, we human beings change too. Of course, not drastically but nonetheless, it is still change. For example, moving to a new house ; a person who moves to a new house and leaves everything behind will obviously feel sad or empty but over time their emotions and thoughts change to suit their new surroundings and that ability to rapidly adapt and finding new ways to survive is what has enabled us as a species to spread out so much across the globe. We are able work out solutions, change our lifestyle and even change the way we think to make the most of what we have. Without being able to change ourselves, we would still be an infant species who would never be able to expand their horizons or be able to move around with the relative ease we have today.

Experiencing
change

Ruhi Walanj Grade 1 Amaryllis - photographs represent the changes of a flower bud to a full bloom flower. It also represents a new beginning.

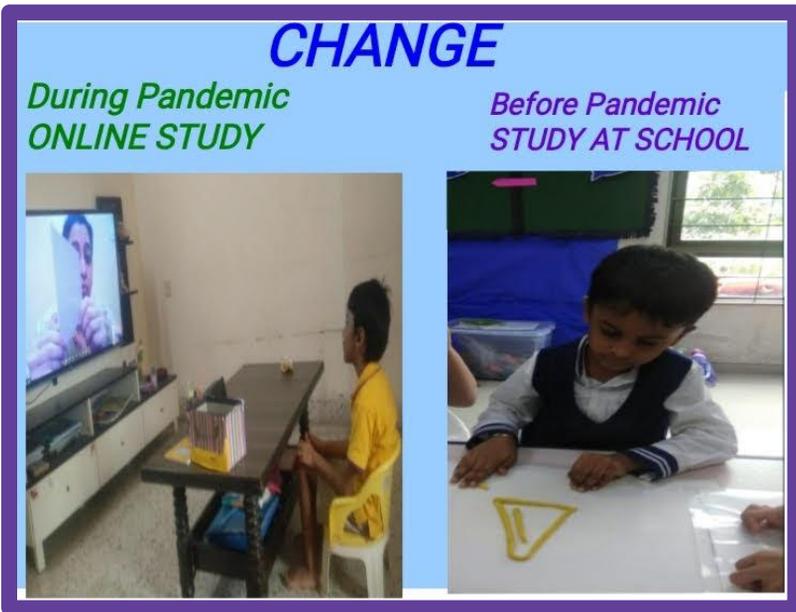

Atiksh Chavali, Grade 3, Elm- Change is hard at first, messy in the middle and gorgeous at the end! The colourful clay transforms to a beautiful project on layers of the Earth. Change is hard work that creates new. Small changes lead to big changes over time.

KKIS Preschoolers

Our curious lil' scientists enjoyed experiments during the virtual classroom sessions. It was interesting to see them explore with an innate sense of wonder and endless enthusiasm for learning.

PSY 3 enjoyed festivities by dressing up for the occasion and relished goodies like mithais, candy canes and biryani.

KKIS

Preschoolers

PSY 4 students turned Mathematicians and learnt about numbers and shapes in the daily life.

PSY 4 students learnt how rivers provide transportation routes for exploration and recreation in context to the theme "Around the World" .
